Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 24 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A murky and damp day for most.

Today:
A cloudy Thursday and a damp one for some too. Patchy light rain will come and go through the day, especially for western areas. There may also be the odd heavy shower around Gloucestershire. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
There will be a few isolated showers in the west of the region this evening before widespread rain pushes in overnight. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
After another damp and cloudy start, conditions will become more settled through the day with plenty of sunshine during the afternoon. Feeling cooler in the west. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Sunshine and showers on Saturday, these potentially heavy or thundery at times. Cloudy with morning rain on Sunday. Widespread rain on Monday turning heavy at times as winds strengthen too.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.